

COSTEL CORAVU - Learning Coach

Costel, who served as a scientific researcher and senior manager in large international corporations, found his vocation at the age of 53: to support professionals, entrepreneurs and managers to (re)discover themselves and find the way to the performance and life they want.

Based on his experience of 16 years of “ fight “ in the international management trenches, in which he earned a good reputation, Costel knows the challenges face by professionals in the business field. He now supports them to address their challenges and to obtain their desired results through the creation of workshops, seminars and personal development and coaching programs. His approaches to leadership, sales, communication, relationships, and teamwork, are based on his views of life, and they constitute a foundation of efficient tools through which people and companies may have access to a life full of harmony and prosperity.

Costel has delivered up to now almost 1000 coaching hours, 60% with groups and teams, and 40% with individuals. His customers have come from different fields of activity: IT&C, retail, automotive, fashion, legal, plastic and metal manufacturing, hotels and restaurants, education, and logistics. He has worked with businessmen, entrepreneurs, managers on all levels, designers, students, teachers and remarkable professionals.

Costel is involved in the pro-bono “Education through coaching in high schools” project, in which he successfully facilitated together with his partner, using the ARL methodology, a team of teachers and students from a high school to generate an increase in the graduation rate of the final exam from 2% to more than 20% in one year. In his position as 2012 – 2013 president of the Romanian Association for Coaching – ARC (www.coaching-arc.ro) and as a future PCC accredited coach (already forwarded the credentials for the accreditation), Costel is contributing to raising the level of professionalism in coaching in Romania, by supervising other coaches through events organized by ARC, and by acting as mentor coach to coaches attending the courses of the Noble Manhattan Coaching Ltd. school for coaches in the UK.
