

Isabel Rimanoczy, Partner & Legacy Coach

Isabel Rimanoczy, Ed.D. is a Legacy Coach, working with people who want to make a difference. She is a partner with LIM, LLC and has worked in North America, Latin America, Europe and Asia with multinational corporations in the areas of change and transition management, coaching and executive development. She teaches Sustainability Mindset at Fordham University, and authored over 130 articles, book chapters and papers published in the USA, Latin America and Europe. She is author of Big Bang Being: Developing the Sustainability Mindset (Greenleaf Publishing, 2013) and co-authored Circles of Dialogue (2011) and Action Reflection Learning: Solving Real Business Problems by Connecting Learning with Earning (Davies-Black Publishing, 2008), based on her research about adult learning.

Isabel is a frequent speaker and presenter at international conferences, and the editor of a monthly electronic newsletter featuring articles on leadership and learning challenges. Isabel grew up in Argentina, where she earned her BA and MA in Psychology at the University of Buenos Aires, as well as an MBA at the University of Palermo. She obtained her doctorate at Teachers College, Columbia University, where she researched business leaders championing sustainability initiatives. She is the Founder and Director of MINERVAS, Women Changing the World, a nonprofit 501(c)3 organization that supports women making a difference. She lives in Florida, USA.

Areas of capability include:

- ⚙ Executive Coaching
- ⚙ Team Development
- ⚙ Transition Coaching
- ⚙ Learning Coach Development
- ⚙ Adult Learning
- ⚙ Languages: English, French, German, Spanish, Portuguese

We develop your leaders while they develop your business.