

Edwin Sim

Singapore, ACC, ACTC
Certified Coach
Shared Leadership Team Coach

Prior to founding his own learning and leadership coaching practice, Edwin helmed leadership positions in leading training and consultancy firms in Singapore. His passion lies in designing appropriate customized learning interventions that help organizations change and transform. Hundreds of organizations have benefited from the practical, “do-able”, simple and yet impactful interventions, especially in the areas of Leadership, Innovation, Communication, Teamwork, Organizational Change, Sales and Service Improvement.

Edwin focuses on building high-performing teams using established team coaching and team process facilitation techniques. He helps teams and groups function and perform more effectively by empowering them with processes and tools that they can implement and manage by themselves. Edwin works with clients and participants from the Asia-Pacific region as well as Europe.

A winner of the Leonard Nadler Award for his outstanding leadership, scholarship and service by the George Washington University, Edwin holds a Master of Human Development & Leadership (GWU) and a Bachelor of Business (Marketing) and recently attained a Graduate Diploma in Applied Positive Psychology.

In his free time, Edwin volunteers at a hospice and enjoys travelling and touring on his motorcycle.
